Governor Gavin Newsom announced Monday that several business sectors will once again shut down due to concerns over increasing COVID-19 cases.

Statewide closures of some indoor operations have been ordered effective immediately as well as additional indoor closures for all counties on the state's watch list, including Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

Statewide indoor closures include restaurants, bars and breweries, wineries & tasting rooms, movie theaters, family entertainment centers, zoos and museums, and cardrooms. County watch-list indoor closures include fitness centers, places of worship, indoor protests, offices for non-critical infrastructure sectors, personal care services, hair salons and barbershops, and malls.

Regarding restaurants, outdoor dining and takeout are still allowed.

"We've made this point on multiple occasions and that is we're moving back into a modification mode of our original stay-at-home order," Newsom said.

There are currently 31 counties, approximately 80% of the state's population, on the state's monitoring list.

California reported 109,910 new cases of COVID-19 and 1,104 deaths in the last two weeks. Overall the state has more than 320,000 COVID-19 cases and more than 7,000 deaths.

The latest case count within Santa Barbara County will be posted this evening.

Racjax and Bigman, you do realize that there is a whole world outside of your purview... just because you don't see something, (or you do), doesnt mean that whatever you are looking for isnt there (or is)... This idea that one's experiences translate to everyone's is a big part of our problem. People seem incapable of understanding that what they personally see and hear isnt what everyone else experiences. What happened to society that turned people so inward? My guess is that social media and smart phones have taken what little critical thinking was left in America and tossed it into the trash. People only want to digest what is in their chosen silo.-- Social media is fast food and its eating our brains. And just like the food-stuff, if you eat fast food and junk all the time, you will get sick, you will grow fat and you will waste away into a puddle of flesh... Its not that complicated. Eat a balanced diet of food and information. It will make you a healthier and happier human. Until then, try to pay mind to other people's experiences, you'll feel less threatened by them and the world at large.

RACJAX JUL 14, 2020 07:34 AM

Where are all these people without masks? Everywhere I go people are wearing masks including out of county. So why all of a sudden this shutdown? Where is the "science" indicating this is effective? And by the way, research never "proves" anything. Do we even know the exact parameters being used in the numbers? Does the entire population need the restrictions? Are there only subgroups? And before anyone goes off on me, yes I teach doctoral level research and chair quantitative dissertations. The methodology for all these numbers has been (deliberately) obscured/omitted. Is everyone using the exact same criteria for reporting? I haven't trusted any of the numbers since the beginning. There is so very much we do not know.

A-1594740390 JUL 14, 2020 08:26 AM

RAC you sure don't sound like someone who teaches "doctoral level research and chair quantitative dissertations" (whatever that's supposed to mean, though it's meant to be impressive). And clearly you can't differentiate between a scientific paper and public information bulletins; they are not the same as you seem to expect. But go ahead and follow the lead of Kudlow and Mnuchin in politicizing public health policy.

PITMIX JUL 14, 2020 08:12 AM

Wow, a scientist that sounds like an anti-vaxxer! Is it your point that we can't trust any information coming from any source? Personally, the total hospitalization and total ICU numbers and resultant deaths coming out of Ventura County have been consistent from the start, so I'm willing to trust them. They show the best summary of the current problem anyway.

BIGMAN JUL 14, 2020 06:54 AM

There is something I don't understand. I see comments about people not wearing masks on State Street, but that is outside. This closes all indoor activities. Everywhere I've been indoors - which is only essential businesses when I need something - pretty much everyone, with a few exceptions, wears a mask especially lately. So what is going on here? This concerns me. I know masks are not 100% so maybe that's it, either that or they still aren't sure about how this virus is spreading. Something is not adding up.

JB86 JUL 14, 2020 03:23 AM

I don't get the 'anti-masker' comments here. I was out today, went to three businesses on Calle Real, and 100% of the people I saw in these places wore face coverings and avoided close contact to the extent they could. Same at Camino Real Marketplace a few days ago. The only scofflaw I saw was a homeless dude outside Albertson's. I'm thinking something else is at work in the continuing spread of the virus - something we don't yet understand.

PSTARSR JUL 14, 2020 07:54 AM

This is akin to birth control. if you want it to be effective you have to use it ALL the time. So lets equate this to the current situation, if NOT EVERYONE WEARS a mask, then we have spikes and have to close down again.

BIGMAN JUL 14, 2020 06:55 AM

Except he isn't closing outdoor walking and construction sites so, they don't appear to think that is a problem.

JB86 you make a good point actually. In my travels most people if not all are wearing masks. Now I don't go much anywhere except grocery stores but that is what I've observed. I was just saying to my family yesterday - after this new "order" - that if inside activities have to be cancelled then obviously masks aren't working. He closed only indoor operations - and in most of these we are supposed to be wearing masks and most do so what is going on here?

TERNST JUL 14, 2020 06:25 AM

Yeah everyone's false sense of security that masks work. They all think we'll be fine if you wear your mask and not wearing a mask is the problem....pull your head out of your @ss.

Downtown today about ten people didn't have masks. Some were walking and appeared to be tourists, but most were construction workers who also weren't "social distancing ".

SBRYSA JUL 13, 2020 08:29 PM

As a small business owner that has been shut down only to be opened for almost 2 weeks, this is devastating. Many of my friends beauty businesses will surely close.

PITMIX JUL 14, 2020 08:13 AM

So tough to be a small business owner, and especially now. I hope that you and your friends are able to get through this.

It looks like they are spinning up a 200 bed Covid center at the old Sears building in La Cumbre. It's going to get worse before it get's better. https://www.independent.com/2020/07/12/sears-site-identified-as-possible...

Hooray, the science deniers and selfish me first crowd and Trumpanzees have made the last four months of pain a total waste--and now we get to do it again.

MACPUZL JUL 14, 2020 12:00 AM

The epidemiological data clearly show that the states that opened up earlier and to a greater degree have surges that track those actions, not any protests. Protests contribute, but only to a minor degree compared to prolonged indoor contact.

420722 JUL 13, 2020 10:47 PM

Hooray- protesters have led us back into a total shutdown and the last four months have a been a total waste- - and now we get to do it again.

XPANDER JUL 13, 2020 03:43 PM

This is very unfortunate yet not at all surprising given how many people are being selfish in regards to trying to mitigate the spread of the virus (non-mask wearing, non-social distancing, etc). I do feel bad for the many kids who are having to re-adjust to life as we currently know it. On another note, I would be interested to know how many (if any at all) new cases have come from any of the local tattoo shops.I would guess 0. My artist has been appointment only for years now, the space is small and it's always one-on-one. No foot traffic, like some of the others on State with countless walk-ins and lookey-loos. You would think these shops would be allowed to stay open over say, a gym.

LOOSECANNON JUL 13, 2020 04:14 PM

Disappointed that the YMCA is closing again. The staff have done a remarkable job keeping the place clean and sanitary. Masks are required upon entry. There's hand sanitizer everywhere. Showers and lockers are closed. I nip and out of the place to swim in the pool. The vaccine can't survive in chlorinated water. I don't see how swimming at the pool is any more dangerous than, say, shopping at Trader Joe's. Seems like Santa Barbara is being punished because the numbers are high in Santa Maria. What a bore.

WHATSNEW JUL 13, 2020 02:40 PM

been wondering how the community views about the Chumash Casino still being open?

ABC109 JUL 13, 2020 07:26 PM

Especially since there are 5 cases (so far) among employees at Chumash. The majority of their employees are bused in from Santa Maria and Lompoc, which are the main hotspots of the county. If the 'Mash thinks that they are not contributing to community spread, they have another thing coming

A-1594683400 JUL 13, 2020 04:36 PM

REX I watched the press conference w/ Newsom and he said "card houses" lol!!

A-1594678317 JUL 13, 2020 03:11 PM

WHATSNEW - the Chumash Casino is open for one reason and one reason alone. Greed. The right thing for a sovereign native american business to do, would be to comply with what all other local business must do. Shame on the Casino for staying open. This is one of the many culprits behind our schools staying closed in the fall. All those who are open unnecessarily and refuse to wear masks or take any social responsibility are the direct cause of our children losing out on a normal life. Disgusting.

WHATSNEW JUL 13, 2020 02:52 PM

I believe they can do as they want - not being tied to State requests.

REX OF SB JUL 13, 2020 02:43 PM

"Card houses?" I love it!

BIGMAN JUL 13, 2020 02:41 PM

How can the casino stay open? The list includes them I believe as "card houses"?

I freakin' told all you anti-mask bozos so! Thanks! Now our kids are going to miss out on school and sports and a normal life even longer! Screw your haircuts and bars, our children are missing out on life right now! Your selfishness is cowardly, disgusting and I'd say "anti-American" bud sadly, this what our country has devolved into. A pack of selfish, hateful fools. This is all on YOU.

M-CUBED JUL 13, 2020 02:05 PM

Gee, nobody saw this coming! Now all the anti-maskers are going to reeee about how unfair it all is.
